

Professional sportsman Joe Williams recently visited West Arnhem communities to deliver a powerful message through 'The Enemy Within'. He is pictured with community members in Minjilang.

ASSISTING COMMUNITIES TO HEAL

A professional sportsman in both NRL and boxing visited West Arnhem Land recently to deliver a powerful message to community members in Minjilang, Warruwi, Gunbalanya and Maningrida.

Joe Williams, is a Wiradjuri, 1st Nations man born in Cowra with a 15 year career as a professional sportsman, however he is now committed to working with remote Aboriginal communities and developing an ongoing relationship into the future to assist in helping communities heal.

Joe rose as a successful sportsman, playing in the NRL for South Sydney Rabbitohs, Penrith Panthers and Canterbury Bulldogs before switching to professional Boxing in 2009. As a boxer he is a two time WBF World Jnr Welterweight champion and also won the WBC Asia Continental Title.

Joe has also battled the majority of his life with suicidal ideation and Bipolar Disorder.

"While in West Arnhem, Joe spoke to community members about his experiences.."

After a suicide attempt in 2012, Joe now travels the country to tell his story through 'The Enemy Within' - helping people who struggle with mental illness.

Through customised workshops and youth-focused camps, he speaks of adversity, dealing with struggle, resilience, improving your attitude by 1 percent, positive energy and how small steps, lead to something greater.

While in West Arnhem, Joe spoke to community members about his experiences, suicide prevention, substance abuse, the importance of education and making good choices.

He delivered his story to hundreds of different people throughout the communities with multiple sessions held for students, rangers, football teams and more in Gunbalanya, Maningrida, Warruwi and Minjilang.

Last year Joe visited over 70 communities around the country delivering sessions to over 20,000 people. In 2017 he was named as a finalist in the National Indigenous Human Rights Awards for his work with suicide prevention and fighting for equality for Australia's First Nations people. In 2015 he also received the Wagga Citizen of the Year for his work within the community, mental health and suicide prevention sectors.

Every Australian can play their part by nominating someone so their efforts and contributions are recognised publicly.

NEW MURALS AT WARRUWI RECREATION HALL

The Warruwi Recreation Hall now proudly features incredible wall to wall murals, painted both inside and out, which were dreamed up by the young people of Warruwi and created in partnership with urban street artists.

West Arnhem Regional Council supported this exciting project through funding, and as a result of a huge team effort, the well-utilised hall now reflects the stories, imaginations and vibrancy of the Warruwi community.

Warruwi gladly welcomed Dave from Proper Creative in Darwin and Kate, an independent artist, to carry out the murals and also work with the youth who assisted in creating, designing and painting.

As a result, the recreation hall now has a new-edge look and also gives the young people a sense of ownership as they came up with their own designs by doing rough drafts and sketches with the guidance of both professional artists.

Stencils spray cans, brushes, rollers, and markers were used throughout the artists' duration in community.

From day one to five, the body of work displayed by the community was absolutely terrific and by the end of the week, a huge number of community members had visited the hall to see the amazing art work on display and even stop to take photos.

This also included internal and external stakeholders within the community as well as other West Arnhem Regional Council staff.

To celebrate the work, there was also a re-launch of the building and barbecue for all community members.

Dave from Proper Creative said, "It's awesome to see the community lead this project and come up with such creativity."

NEW CAMERAS AT JABIRU AIRPORT

Energy Resources of Australia (ERA) has partnered with SkyCam to setup a new airport camera system which will provide pilots with real time updates on tarmac conditions.

Changes to runway conditions from adverse weather, unexpected wildlife or aircraft traffic can force pilots to alter the approach of their aircraft or delay flights. Until this month, that critical information was only available to pilots via people on the ground describing what they see over the phone or via email.

The new cameras installed by ERA will improve safety and help to reduce unexpected aircraft cancellations or delays into and out of the airport.

Pilots are able to simply login to the website and see the live feed for the latest visuals on the runway and any weather

2018 INDIGENOUS GOVERNANCE AWARDS REGISTRATIONS OPEN

Reconciliation Australia has extended the application period for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-led organisations to apply for the 2018 Indigenous Governance Awards. Entries are now closing on Friday 20th July.

The awards publicly recognise and celebrate outstanding Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-led organisations, projects and initiatives that make extraordinary contributions to communities and the nation.

In 2018, Reconciliation Australia and the BHP Billiton Foundation are proud to run the awards for the first time in partnership with the Australian Indigenous Governance Institute, a national centre of governance excellence.

By entering the awards, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-led organisations, projects and initiatives across the country have the chance to share in $60,000 of prize money, as well as corporate mentoring, feedback from an esteemed judging panel, and media and networking opportunities.

Reconciliation Australia CEO Karen Mundine said she encouraged organisations and groups of all shapes and sizes to consider applying for an award.

"We know there are organisations, initiatives and projects around the country that are making important contributions to their communities, and the nation, by putting culture at the heart of their governance," she said.

Ms Mundine said effective Indigenous governance melds traditional governance and responsibilities, based on culture and kinship, with the requirements of mainstream organisations, including financial and legal accountability.

"By creating governance models that are effective and legitimate in two worlds, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-led organisations are examples of successful self-determination and two-way governance in action," she said.

The two award categories are Category A: Indigenous-led incorporated organisations and Category B: Indigenous-led non-incorporated initiatives or projects.

Winners in each of the two categories will receive $20,000, and highly commended organisations in each category will each be awarded $10,000.

Applications or recommendations for the 2018 Indigenous Governance Awards can be made online at www.reconciliation.org.au/iga or by calling 02 6273 9200.

BIN IT THIS TERRITORY DAY

Keep Australia Beautiful are urging Territorians to bin their firework litter after Territory Day fireworks on July 1, this includes drink and food container litter as well as spent cartridges and other fireworks debris.

Firework litter left on beaches, in our parks, and on roadways is a risk. It is unsightly litter and poses a danger and hazard to people, pets, wildlife and the total environment. Every year, Councils act quickly cleaning up after our fireworks and community volunteers assist picking up the booming litter problem after the event.

Heimo Schober, CEO of Keep Australia Beautiful NT is reminding all Territorians to do the right thing and put all litter in the bin.

"Bin it after you bang it, if you take Fireworks into a park or on a beach area then take the fireworks debris out and bin it please. Let's be proud respectful Territorians and bin all our rubbish on Territory Day. Be responsible, respect country, and dispose of our Territory Day litter."

"Territory Day Fireworks is about celebrating all good things Territorians and having fun, but once the fireworks have been safely exploded and cooled, it's just a matter of disposing them appropriately. Please don't leave your litter on the beach for the tides to wash out into our oceans," Mr Schober said.

The top tips to avoid a cracker of a litter problem are:

- After the firework has cooled, dispose of it in a bin.
- Wear gloves when picking up firework litter or use tongs.
- Although fireworks can't be recycled, most of their bulk packaging could be.
- Follow the instructions on each firework and be very safety conscious.
- Keep fireworks in a closed box.
- Always supervise children around fireworks.
- Keep pets indoors.

According to the latest Keep Australia Beautiful National Litter Index report, there were 82 items per 1,000m² on average recorded across all 148 sites surveyed in the Northern Territory during the 2016/17 litter counts, while the overall average estimated volume per 1,000m² was 5.4 litres.

LOCAL AUTHORITY MEETINGS IN WEST ARNHEM

The West Arnhem Regional Council operates Local Authorities in Minjilang, Waruwi, Maningrida and Gunbalanya to learn about what these communities need and want by listening and working with community residents.

"Learn about what these communities need and want by listening and working with community residents.."

The authorities are intended to give people a strong voice in local government by allowing people to be actively involved in planning, giving feedback on service delivery, identifying priority community projects and finding solutions to local issues.

The Council helps plan and deliver local projects that have been identified as priorities by each Local Authority.

There have recently been Local Authority meetings at Waruwi and Gunbalanya, and at these meetings the Local Authorities were provided with a response by the Council to the issues they raised in past meetings as well as detailed financial and operational reports.

Decisions were also made about the investment of the Local Authority project funding pool which is intended to support priority community projects that encourage the continued development of Local Authorities and their respective communities.

Meetings of Local Authorities are open to the public and details of meeting dates and minutes of past meetings can be found on the Council's website at; <https://www.westarnhem.nt.gov.au/our-council/local-authorities>

REMOTE HOUSING PROGRAM

The first three HomeBuild tenders have been awarded in Maningrida, Gunbalanya and Angurugu under the Territory Labor Government's remote housing program.

Minister for Housing and Community Development Gerry McCarthy said the tenders to build 10 bush homes, worth a combined $5.07 million, was a significant milestone for the program.

"We are delivering on our election commitment and our promise to invest in the bush, reduce overcrowding, create local jobs and return decision making to local people," Mr McCarthy said.

HomeBuild NT is a component of the Territory Labor Government's own remote housing program Our Community. Our Future. Our Homes. This program focuses on new builds through local decision making.

The successful tenderers in West Arnhem are: SH Build for the construction of four new homes in Gunbalanya ($1.87 million), WTD Constructions Pty Ltd for the construction of three new homes in Maningrida ($1.45 million), GEBIE Civil and Construction Pty Ltd for the construction of three new homes in Angurugu ($1.75 million)

Work in all three communities is expected to commence this month and member for Arafura Lawrence Costa said the program would boost local employment.

"Local Aboriginal employment is a focus of the Remote Housing Program, with 35 percent being targeted for all packages," he said.

"Combined, these tenders will see the construction of 10 homes in Maningrida, Angurugu and Gunbalanya. That is 10 families whose lives will change for the better."

Member for Arnhem Selena Uiho said the new builds will make a significant difference to communities.

"Housing is the number one concern within the Arnhem Electorate and HomeBuild NT will play a critical part in alleviating overcrowding experienced by remote Territorians," she said.

MANINGRIDA AFL FOOTBALL GRAND FINAL

Maningrida held its season ending footy grand final on June 23. After a five-month long season, it came down to two heavyweights, the Hawks versus the Saints in the decider.

The Saints had been the form team all season and were heavy favourites to take out the premiership.

The Saints players got off to a flyer and kicked 10 goals in the first quarter.

While the Hawks rallied later in the game, the Saints were too strong in the end winning by about four goals.

Congratulations to the Saints boys on their season. A special thank you goes out the Manuel Brown who did a lot of the running around to get the community ready for the Grand Final.

Can't wait for next season.

GUNBALANYA AFL TEAM PUTS HEALTH FIRST

As part of the Growing a Smoke Free Generation Project, Top End Health Services, the team of Indigenous Peer Support Workers from Gunbalanya have been working tirelessly to create health spaces in community where young men and women are encouraged to participate. The project was to identify if youth peer support workers would increase engagement and ultimately behaviour change for any risk taking behaviour including tobacco smoking whilst supporting community awareness to improve their health.

This year, the Peer Support Workers identified they would like to represent Gunbalanya and compete in the 30th Anniversary Barunga Festival. The identified measures around taking a team as part of the Growing a Smoke Free Project was strong focus on No Smoking for team members.

Six weeks out from the

Barunga Festival the young men began their quest. With a team that fluctuated at training sessions between 40 and 15 they toiled away at their fitness. Finally it was time to load the swags and camp trailer. The 30 strong Adjumarllarl Dingos AFL team were ready for Barunga Festival and a weekend of sport, culture, camping and music.

Their camp site was selected, the tents and swags erected and thanks to our wonderful chef Alex; the team and its entourage, had their own camp kitchen with home cooked meals prepared, with plenty in the pots the food was shared amongst other surrounding campers and midnight meals for the footballers.

First day of competition

Adjumarllarl Dingos were openers. They played hard fast game against a worthy adversary from Groote. Incredible game played by the whole team and they were victors. Unfortunately the guys went down to Lajumanu during their second game and although it was a tough loss, it didn't dampen their spirits. They went into the afternoon and evening enjoying the festivities Barunga offered.

Sunday morning, the Dingos played Daguragu. The Dingos looked like an incredible outfit and their efforts were rewarded with a win for this match.

There were plenty of Gunbalanya supporters cheering from the sidelines, many from community and some met during the weekend. There was an incredible vibe for their first efforts at Barunga. The Adjumarllarl Dingos missed the finals on percentage however they certainly made an impression.
